

4:00 p.m. Recap

Steve Levy

Catching up and regrouping. See March notes.

- Do we want to continue meeting monthly and move forward this product?
- Jessica- stretched thin when this started and now stretched thinner
  - WSMA going in every direction- new thing popping up that need's platform for consensus
  - A ton of education on things not anticipated- opioid and telehealth, reopening medicine, communicating effectively
  - We can plug it in on one of the weeks w/o a topic- but a lot of things coming up right now and bandwidth and people to absorb content
- LuAnn- agrees; really busy before and even busier now.
  - Working on implementing telehealth solution- working on 24/7 help line to implement care and answer calls
  - Hospitals starting elective procedures and more requests for prior authorization
- Anita- while there is interest and passion in topic and certainly a need- COVID trumps everything because it is immediate and urgent
  - Largely something that people and organizations are grappling with- which will take a lot of energy for next month or two
  - If we tried to do something after meeting- people are spread thin and distracted
  - Might be better in September- if it doesn't resurge
  - When surge will happen?
- Jessica- hearing a lot more about socio economic outcomes with COVID
  - With so many things Covid-19 is shining a light on glaring issues in society
  - Good to hear topic come up in a variety of other settings
  - However, unless it's through a Covid lens- people are spread to thing
  - People have to prioritize and they're scrambling; info is changing and websites updated all the time
- Has WPSC been revisiting strategic plan – from organizational perspective
- How is WPSC rethinking goals that were set up for the year?
  - Steve- Psych. Safety group is not meeting until summer
  - Diagnostic group has decided to keep meeting
- 3 goals for this year- 2 awareness campaigns and 1 training module
  - Stigmas raising its head with COVID
- Amy- The Bree is currently hosting monthly webinars about behavioral health implementations
  - Could be an opportunity to collaborate on a webinar around stigma and OUD- stigmatized language that providers use

4:15 p.m. Discussion/Worksheet Planning
